Jims Jottings

Dear family and friends

Have you ever been coming towards a problem knowing that it can turn into a frustration. If not, you haven't ever tried to make hay in inclement weather. So this is the situation at the moment. So how do we as Christians handle frustration? That feeling always arises when there is no one to specifically vent our feelings upon. That would be so good. Now is the moment to turn to our Wonderful Heavenly Father who always knows best, and instead of losing sleep or getting angry about the situation, bring to Him a sacrifice of praise and realise that all things work together for good to those who love the Lord. These situations are not life threatening—but challenges to be faced. Keep doing what we can—for that mountain of frustration disappears, when to consider a world view—it's not cancer—it's only grass! (By the way—you can pray for good, good weather!) Rejoicingly.

Joanna's Jottings—Dark clouds

As I was in the office trying to concentrate on preparing for family camp 2016 "Arise and Shine", my attention was taken by the tractor and baler and the man that was struggling to bale the hay in the rain! He was trying to unblock the baling machine! We needed the sun to shine this morning to dry the hay and it did shine! But, those dark clouds that were on their way threatened heavy showers!? I said to Arthur, Oh no, rain!! So, I went outside and spoke to the sky

Cont ... and asked God to stop the rain. Gazing outside again, the tractor and baler had started again, but then a sudden stop—Arthur and Dad (Jim) are now in the office observing this scene—stop/start showers. Reflecting on our own life we think we are ready for the harvest—but then dark clouds seem to put a stop to our life. When the “SON” shines upon us “HE” prepares us for a good and healthy yield and the harvest fields are ready.

Prepare us Lord for the harvest and don't let a little rain and dark clouds stop you—BECOME DETERMINED FOR GOD.
